THE NINTH COMMANDMENT

by Ruth Taylor

"In vain we call old notions fudge, And bend our conscience to our dealing, The Ten Commandments will not fudge, And nothing will continue stealing."

James Russell Lowell

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against Thy neighbor" is still one of the Ten Commandments. No doubt nine out of ten people questioned would say that is one they never commit. But, try listening to any conversation, even your own—and see how carelessly, how habitually the Ninth Commandment is broken.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you judge him not as an individual upon his own merits, but as a part of a group—whether that judgment be praise or censure.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you impute to him motives for action about which you can know nothing.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you accuse him of acting only in his own self-interest.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you pass on unfounded rumors about him or the group from which he comes, or when you shade the truth or supply details from your own imagination to make a good story.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you pre-judge him, when you assume the worst and determine what he will do before he has done it.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you attribute to him lower aims than your aims, lower ideals than your ideals.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you think of him as non-American just because his background is different than yours, his family has come from a different nation or because he goes to a different church.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you refuse to grant him the same privileges you reserve to yourself.

You bear false witness against your neighbor when you bar the gates to understanding, for by so doing you deny the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of all men.

Do you keep the Ninth Commandment?

A BAD TIME FOR THE PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C. — March — It is an accepted fact that President Roosevelt has held Congress under his thumb since the present war was declared December 8, 1941. Since that definite date he has assumed powers that do not belong to his office. Quite recently he attempted to justify his Federal budget scheme on the theory that he is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy — which is very poor reasoning, inasmuch as it disregards the clear authority over elections that rest within the States.

But, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley stunned the Senate and the country when he charged Mr. Roosevelt with attempting to "belittle and discredit Congress" in his tax message, and notified the Senate that "if the Congress of the U. S. has a self-report yet left, it will override the veto of the President and enact this tax bill into law." President Roosevelt broke loose in the Upper Chamber of Congress when Barkley announced with some emotion that he was "utterly indifferent as to what the consequences may be to me."

Washington accepts this amazing event as a positive break in the Democratic party. Even more important than that it is the first protest of the long-hoisted intent of Congress to declare its "independence."

The fact that practically all but a half dozen Senators enthusiastically endorsed the attack upon the President must be accepted as a demand from the Senate to insist upon its legislative rights and prerogatives.

The Senate event had not been completed before a similar proceeding was enacted in the House of Representatives, where the revolt on the tax veto was led by Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee and supported by Democratic leadership Representative Doughton announced: "There's where I part company with the President of the United States." This row is understood in Washington as a distinct demand by Congress upon the President to mind his own business and to let Congress do the same.

The distinction between the Constitutional authority of the Administration and the Legislative branch of the Government has been made rather clear and understandable in the last hundred and fifty years. Other Presidents before Mr. Roosevelt have assumed to act independent of Congress. The tragedy in the life and death of Woodrow Wilson was a sad, but recent warning.

It is strange indeed that Mr. Roosevelt, a protégé of Mr. Wilson, should have ignored the historic results and consequences that befell the first World War President.

The only conclusion that one can reach is that President Roosevelt brought upon himself this rebellion of Congress, because he assumed powers that do not belong to his office.

Congress has finally taken the hard way to break the hold of the President over Congress. What the results will be no one knows. The Congress has been backing down for many years. If President Roosevelt profits by his lesson he may be able to restore his prestige. But he has a long hard way to go.

SERVING WELL WHERE HE IS

(Charlotte Observer)

The Byrd-for-President movement is being rather energetically pressed by some of the friends and admirers of the Senator from Virginia, and is one in which The Observer would be inclined to join if convinced there is a reasonable basis for hope that it would be successful.

Unfortunately that it is, the fact remains, however, that statesmen of his type are usually unattractive to the mass of voters. And even more unfortunate, the issues for which he stands and is making a name are too abstract to create for him a popular imaginative state of political mind. The able and worthy Senator is serving his country intelligently and with distinct patriotic devotion in Congress. He has become the spokesman of which nationwide sympathy exists in the half of greater economy and more essential Federal expenditures.

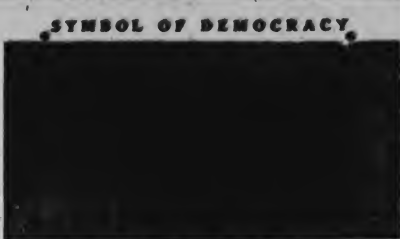

The country may look to him to continue this vital and essential leadership and there is some reason to feel encouraged that his labors and influences in this regard will bear even more fruit in the future than in the past, even though he and his Congressional Committee were instrumental in striking $2,000,000,000 from current expenditures.

With more than 40,000,000 Americans now paying Federal income taxes, perhaps "any well-directed economy movement will gain popular favor and national momentum."

Senator Byrd will find much larger audiences now to listen to his fervid appeals for economy. Eight times as many of our people are paying taxes today as before the war and it is reasonable, therefore, to assume that eight times more of them will have direct interest in the way the government spends their money.

The imperative to avoid wasteful spending is more and more pressing when the fiscal status of the government is factually surveyed.

Since our entrance into the war two years ago, a public debt of 61 billion dollars has grown to 170 billion. Although taxes are now considered burdensome, the government is running only about $285 million on the running government.

"A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia ASSEMBLY STUDIES COLLEGE BEING CREDITED BY ARMY TRAINING CANCELLATION (By Frances Leigh Williams)"

Virginia's colleges have become a major focus for the General Assembly since the announcement of the virtual elimination of the Army Special Training Program in the colleges. The Legislature may need to appropriate $500,000 in state aid to the institutions of higher learning to keep them functioning during the war. Should the Navy withdraw its training work even more state assistance would be necessary. The Army plans to withdraw by April first 110,000 out of the 140,000 young men in the college training program across the nation. In the Old Dominion, the Virginia Polytechnic Institute will be the hardest hit of the state-supported schools with the University of Virginia suffering least unless the Navy also withdraws its contracts.

A proposal made by leading national educators to the War Department may so change the picture that the Legislature will not have to alter the budget to assist the colleges. This proposal is that the Army send about 100,000 seventeen-year-old youths to the colleges for one year of training before they are inducted into the service at 18.

The Assembly has already dealt with many issues concerning the colleges of the state. One of the most controversial appropriations in this year's budget has been the nearly $3,000,000 asked by the Governor to construct a building at the University of Virginia to break up the present fraternity house system. Capital sums have also been requested for the other state-supported colleges.

The Legislature has voted to consolidate Mary Washington College with the University of Virginia and the Governor has signed the bill. The proposal of a similar merger of Radford State Teachers' College with VPI has caused much debate and still awaits final decision.

Governor Darden's continuous marked interest in Virginia's colleges is shared by a number of legislators. A general feeling pervades Capitol Hill that the colleges must be helped to continue through these difficult war years and then reorganized to meet the changing needs of the postwar era. Some feel that, if the State raises the age of compulsory school attendance to 16 and gives intensive vocational training in the high schools, many students will use that training to get jobs and not go on to college. This may correct a growing trend before the war to consider college essential for absolutely every American youngster.

In thinking toward the type of higher education needed after the war, Virginia legislators seem eager that full opportunity be available for both vocational and liberal education. Many people hope that neither will be entirely divorced from the other, for Virginia's most truly educated men received an education in ENDS as well as MEANS. Jefferson invented a folding stairway, a pen that would sign multiple signatures, but he also produced the Declaration of Independence because his education had taught him to think and to develop a philosophy of life based on conviction. In the postwar world America will need to raise up great leaders who are great because they too believe in the God-given destiny of America. Men will need to be trained in his specific work whether it be plumbing, law, electricity, medicine, education or whatever, but he will also need to be fitted to lead the fuller life of public service as well as personal achievement.

There are many boys now in the armed services who are determined to return to college after the war. They will insist on studies that answer some of their battle-born hunger to know the meaning and purpose of life. In addition to perfecting themselves in mathematics, many will want to study history, philosophy, theology and literature, those subjects which interpret man to himself and his relationship to God. For, in the colleges, more than anywhere else, will be fought out the battle of whether America is to return to her basis as a Christian democracy or turn into a pagan state where the philosophy of materialism and pleasure is rampant.

A nationally famous columnist has declared, "The prevailing education is destined, if it continues, to destroy the Western civilization, and in fact, is destroying it. . . . Modern education is based on a denial that it is necessary, or useful, or desirable for the schools and colleges to continue to transmit from generation to generation, the religious and classical culture of the Western World. . . . By separating education from the classical, religious tradition, the school cannot train the pupil to look upon himself as an inviolable person because he is made in the image of God. These very words, though they now sound arid, are the noblest words in our language."

"In the American schools and colleges, we have gone very far towards abandoning the idea that an education should be grounded upon the deliberate training of the mind and upon a discipline in the making of moral choices. . . . So when this war is over, we have a rendezvous with ourselves to consider as a matter of high priority, the restoration and the reconstruction of American education."

If "In God We Trust" is to be the motivating idea of America to build a new world after the war, as Franklin was the motivating idea that empowered Germany to go to war, there will be a new emphasis in the colleges. America may well find that emphasis in adopting George Washington's advice, "And let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality cannot be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education on minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle. It is substantially true that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. . . . Who, that is a sincere friend to it, can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundation of the fabric? Promote, then, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened."

SONG BOOKS FOR U. S. ARMY

The Quartermaster Corps has ordered nearly 700,000 song and service books for the use of Chaplains with troops. The books are designed for Protestant, Catholic, or Hebrew, and contain prayers, services, a wide range of favorite hymns, and many patriotic airs.

CHINESE WOMEN JOIN ARMY

As the "Join the Army Movement" spreads throughout the universities and high schools in Free China, more than 20,000 Chinese students have volunteered during the past few weeks. One-fourth of the volunteers are women. Dr. P. C. Chang, counselor of the Executive Yuan Department said that Chinese youth, while grateful for Allied help, "also realize that God helps those who help themselves."

Flint that provided arrows for Indians served American pioneers for grinding grain.

Farmers Must File Their Federal Tax Returns By March 15

Certain Losses Deductible in Computing Income

Even though they filed declarations of estimated tax in September or December, the following persons in general must file income tax returns on or before March 15.

1. Every single person whose gross income in 1943 was $500 or more.
2. Every individual married person whose gross income was more than $500.
3. Every married couple whose combined gross income was $1,200 or more.
4. Every person who paid or owed a tax on 1942 income.

Exempt from filing on March 15 are servicemen and others outside the country, and wives of servicemen outside the country, if the wife's own income is less than $1,200.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue advises all persons to file their returns early to determine how they stand. Many people will be about even with the government, a number of people will find they have a sizable payment to make, and still others will find that the government owes them money.

Income Tax Tip

1. Where to get forms: Forms have been mailed to persons who filed 1942 returns. However, anyone needing forms may obtain them from the nearest office of a Collector of Internal Revenue (localised articles should include address).
2. Where to get help: Most people, especially those using the short form, can fill out their own returns. Others who need assistance can get it free of charge at any Collector's office. Deputy collectors also will be stationed from time to time in large business offices, and many other places because the number of available deputy collectors is limited by war conditions, people should not be urged to seek assistance unless they really need it.

If a farmer reports his income on a cash basis, he does not use inventories to determine profits and there fore can take no deduction for loss on account of shrinkage of weight or physical value, or deterioration in storage. If he reports his income on an accrual basis, using inventories to determine profits, his inventories automatically will show such shrinkage in value.

The farmer reporting income on the accrual basis, can take no deduction separately for livestock or products lost during the year, whether bought for resale or produced on that farm, because such losses will be shown in the inventory by reducing the amount of livestock or products on hand at the close of the year.

"Somethin' special catch your eye in the paper, Judge?"

"Sure did, Chet... an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check."

"It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet... prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too."

SEA SCOUT SAGA

SEA SCOUT PROMISES

As a Sea Scout I promise to do my best:

1-To guard against water accidents.
2-To know the location and proper use of all life saving devices on every boat I board.
3-To be prepared to render aid to those in need.

4-To seek and preserve the motto of the sea, "women and children first."

The four promises above are the promises studied and kept by a Sea Scout. Before a new member can become a part of the troop he must first study, be able to say and give the meaning of the Sea Scout promises.

The first part "To guard against water accidents" means just what it says. A sea scout must be able to swim, to carry and take care of a drowning person. He is to know the rules of the sea to prevent accidents at sea and the safety rules to prevent accidents on board ship as well as on land.

The second part, "To know the location and proper use of all life saving devices on every boat I board" means that every true and loyal Sea Scout immediately after boarding a boat will find such things as the life boats, life rings and the life preservers in case of a man overboard, as well as the location of the fire hose, and extinguishers, axes et cetera, in case of fire.

RATION TOKENS IN USE

With the advent of red and blue "change" tokens and the use of different ration stamps over the United States this week, housewives were reminded by Dr. Bright "that the new red and blue "A" stamps now have a uniform value of 10 points each, regardless of the fact that they bear the figure "8."

Brown and green stamps, which will be used in the overlapping next three weeks, continue to be valued at 5, 5, 2 and 1.

Because not all stores may have received their supplies of tokens during the first week, Dr. Bright added, food stores are permitted to make change from the red "A" stamps by using one-point brown Y and Z stamps and to make change from blue "A" stamps by using one-point green K, L and M stamps. Such procedure will be permitted until March 20.

Other reminders on the use of tokens included:
Tokens will be given in change by storekeepers only. They will not be issued from local rationing boards.

Tokens may not be exchanged for stamps and housewives can receive a maximum of nine tokens in a one transaction.

the colorful poster which is one of the WE WORK FOR VICTORY, TOO series furnished this year to schools as part of the Club's civic safety program," Mr. Day said.

"Many traffic fatalities result from failure of pedestrians to make a momentary stop at the curb line and look both ways to see how close approaching cars are. Few pedestrians - children or adults - realize that if a car is moving 25 miles an hour it will go one full car length every time a man takes a step. Children in school are taught the large differences between their speed and that of moving vehicles.

"The new poster," Mr. Day added, "introduces the novel idea of older boys aiding police and traffic authorities by constructing stencils and painting safety slogans on sidewalks, especially in school areas, where large numbers of persons cross. Such warnings are particularly effective because they are pertinent reminders at the point of danger."

CIVILIAN POPULATION IN PORT AREA DECLINING

Ration book registrations show that the civilian population of the Hampton Roads area declined from 516,154 last April to 429,908 last November, according to Dr. Lorin Thompson, who is in charge of the population study for the State Planning board at Richmond.

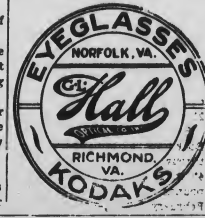

The area is made up of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton, South Norfolk and the counties of Princess Anne, Elizabeth City and Warwick. The Norfolk city registration for War Ration Book IV was 192,585, which exceeded the population shown by the 1940 census by 41 per cent.

Dr. Thompson said the civilian population of the state last November was 2,853,333, an increase of 210,604, or 8 per cent since 1940. Richmond and Henrico County, he said, had a population of 254,436, according to the latest registration. This was a gain of 8 per cent since 1940.

Norfolk County led the increase since 1940 with a gain of 147 per cent. Patrick County led the list of losers with a decline of 20 per cent.

The November registration figures for localities in this area include: Norfolk city, 192,585; Portsmouth, 62,185; South Norfolk, 10,019; Suffolk, 13,152; Hampton and Elizabeth City County, 56,590; Newport News, 54,674.

This is the time of the year for the A-1 gardeners to make their plans.

$24,700 allotted to Princess Anne County. The Red Cross needs no explanation or build up for its solicitation. Just a gentle reminder that the time has come to support a cause which reaches around the world.

In the four years since the start of the war in Europe, 35 million war victims in thirty nations have benefited by aid extended by and through the American Red Cross. contribution think of the great need while on the home front the Red Cross rendered emergency aid to give as much as is possible.

The quota for Princess Anne was double the amount it was last year. Before deciding the amount of your contribution think of the great need while on the home front the Red Cross rendered emergency aid to give as much as is possible.

NOTICE TO LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE USERS

Reduced night rates on Long Distance telephone calls now go into effect at six o'clock each weekday evening instead of seven as heretofore.

But may we again remind all that Long Distance lines are carrying a very heavy load, particularly in the evening hours which is about the only time that service men and women at camps and naval establishments can make their calls.

This notice is published to inform our patrons of the change; not to promote new business.

IS THE FEED SHORTAGE OVER?

The answer, in all probability, is "No."

Corn is the key to the whole feed situation. Many farmers can still pay more for corn than the selling price set by Government order. And there are still enough hogs in the corn belt to keep up the rest of the 1943 corn crop. Nearly half of the crop is already gone.

Southern States grain buyers, along with other grain handlers, predict that the flow of corn to the market will freeze up again within 60 to 90 days. Even if the market becomes favorable, corn growers do not generally move their corn during the busy planting season. That season is just around the corner and the prices of corn are practically gone.

Last May, when corn went off the market, mixers turned to barley, oats and wheat. There is no such "out" this year. We simply do not have the barley or the oats or the wheat.

Members of Southern States Cooperative must protect themselves in the event of another disruption in feed service.

What Farmers can do

Starting immediately, farmers can build up and keep a 30 to 60 day supply of feed right on the farm. This will prove to be a valuable cushion when and if feed service is interrupted by shortages of corn or other ingredients. Southern States Cooperative Service Agencies are now geared to help you build up the farm feed inventory. They may not be able to help you do it later.

As poultry mashers are fed, they should be drawn from the oldest pile to insure the proper vitamin content for the poultry.

Attention should be given seriously to growing more grain and grass forage on the farm. Pullets, as well as cows, can benefit from a leafy succulent range which serves feed costs. Every measure must be taken: First, to build up a feed backlog and Second, to produce more home grown feed to stretch purchased feed further.

Town and Farm In Wartime

Will Review Deferments

Local Selective Service boards have been directed to review cases of all registrants 18 through 37 years old and deferred in classes 2A, 2B, 2C, and 3C. Particular attention will be given registrants under 26 years of age in view of the President's statement that agriculture and industry should release the younger men for military service.

If You Made a Mistake

If you find you made a mistake in your income tax return and already have filed it, what do you do? If your error was simply one of arithmetic, your mistake probably will be corrected without your action. If you made a mistake in your income or deduction entries, contact the office of the collector where you filed your return. You may need to file an amended return.

Single Ration Book for Food

After food shoppers have used their brown Y and Z stamps, they do all their food shopping with War Ration Book Four. The ration token plan now in effect eliminates use of stamps of four denominations (8, 5, 2, and 1 points) and uses stamps of one denomination (10 points) with one-point ration tokens for change.

Farm Gasoline Rations

Six-month gasoline rations for non-highway use on farms may be issued in instalments rather than all at one time, as in the past, the OPA has announced. If the local board has issued the farmer only part of his ration, when the farmer needs more gasoline he makes no formal application but simply asks the board for it. The board then either will issue the remainder of the total six-month ration as originally determined or issue such portion of the remainder as the board decides the farmer needs for the rest of the six-month period.

SET PRICE ON WILD RABBITS

Wild rabbits cannot be sold for meat at wholesale at more than 30 cents a head, under a recent OPA ruling. This action makes no change in retail prices of rabbit meat.

FIRE DESTROYS KITCHEN IN WADE APARTMENT

Leak In Oil Stove Starts Blaze. Damage Small To Rest Of Building.

A fire caused by a leak in an oil stove was discovered in the kitchen of the second floor apartment at 405 17th street, about 11:30 A.M. Tuesday. The quick response of the Virginia Beach Fire Department assisted by the Shore Patrol, to the alarm confined the fire to the kitchen, the contents of which were completely destroyed. Many of the furnishings in the adjoining living room were damaged by smoke and water.

The two family apartment building is owned by Roy Smith, Town Attorney. The second floor apartment, in which the fire started, is occupied by O. Wade and family. Mrs. Wade and her small son were in the apartment at the time and her speedy action in turning in the alarm when smoke was discovered coming from the kitchen possibly saved the building.

The apartment on the lower floor suffered smoke and water damage. The estimated damage was unobtainable, however the building is insured but the furniture was not covered by insurance.

Unlawful To Burn Trash Before 4 P. M.

Virginia Citizens Urged To Follow All Safety Precautions.

An appeal to Virginia citizens to carefully observe the State law prohibiting the burning of trash and brush during the spring forest fire months was issued yesterday by State Forester F. C. Pederson.

It is unlawful, the State official pointed out, to burn trash, brush, grass, leaves or other debris during March, April, and the first fifteen days of May, until after 4 P. M., and then only after sufficient precautions have been taken and enough help is on hand to prevent (Continued on Page Four)

POSTWAR PLANNING ACTIVE THROUGHOUT VIRGINIA

Local Committee Appointed Last August To Study Needs Of Virginia Beach.

Plans for the expenditure of many millions of dollars on public improvements by Virginia cities and towns are being revealed as a result of current survey being conducted by the Postwar Planning Committee of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. The Committee, which is headed by Fred W. McWane, of Lynchburg, is canvassing the entire state to ascertain just what is contemplated by the political subdivisions of the state in the way of postwar public improvements. The survey is being made in cooperation with the Virginia State Planning Board.

Local Committee Named

The committee reports that literally scores of new waterworks, sewer projects, street improvement plans, new public buildings and facilities of every type are being planned. Virginia Beach is among those communities which are looking to the future and to the improvement of the locality. Several months ago the Town Council appointed a committee to look to future improvements and make plans to be carried out at such time when the funds appropriated by the Federal Government would be available for postwar building and repair work.

The committee acting in this capacity is as follows: Herbert Holt, representing the Town Council, was made chairman; R. L. Page represents the Chamber of Commerce; Wallace Clark represents the School Board. This committee has been functioning since the latter part of August.

County Council Of P. T. A. To Have Lunch Meeting

The meeting will be preceded by a luncheon in the school cafeteria. All officers of local associations in the County are urged to be present. Mrs. Wallace Clark, president of the County Council, will be in charge of the meeting.

Many questions are asked which no one can answer.

"GLEANERS AFTER THE REAPERS"

Boy Scouts of the Tidewater Council have wound up their all out effort to help put the 4th WAR LOAN DRIVE over the top and report a total for the Council of $347,475.00. The efforts of the Boy Scouts were in a great measure responsible for the 4th WAR LOAN DRIVE going over the top in the sales of Series "E" bonds. The Scouts are to be commended for their efforts because they were "Gleaners After the Reapers," that is to say, the Scouts did not start their house to house canvass until the 4th week of the 4th WAR LOAN DRIVE and after all other agencies had been taken and their power to sell bonds. Consequently, the $347,475.00 in bond

Volunteer Fire Department Presents Inhalator And Gas Masks To Town

Dave Stormont Appointed To Serve As Electrical Inspector For Town.

John B. McGahey Meets With Post-War Planning Committee.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held Monday evening, March 6. Dave Stormont was appointed by the Council to serve the town as Electrical Inspector.

After routine business was disposed of, H. E. Halstead presented a check of $350.00 to the Town for the purpose of purchasing an inhalator. This gift was from the members of the Volunteer Fire Department.

In speaking of one of the Town's most vital organizations Mr. Halstead gave a brief sketch of its operation as follows: "This organization is financed by public donations and occasional subscription dances and its finances are handled in a very judicial manner, being used for the purchase of equipment for its members and other worthwhile uses."

At one time its membership numbered around 40 men. We have 25 members at present, with 20 of its ex-members in the armed services.

The volunteers are used as an integral part of the regular fire department and as can be attested to by Chief Hobeck, perform an invaluable service to the town.

For all fires of potential seriousness the siren at headquarters is sounded and on all occasions of the find the volunteers have responded in an excellent manner.

The real purpose of this occasion is to present to you for the people of Virginia Beach, a combination resuscitator, inhalator, and aspirator, which is the very latest in life saving apparatus. It is completely automatic and should aid materially in drowning and other emergency cases, and I am very proud to present Mr. Jones a check for $350.00 from the volunteers to cover its cost."

Besides this most generous gift the Volunteer Fire Department paid one half the initial cost of dress uniforms for the Regular Fire Department and the "turn out suits" for the volunteers and the (Continued on page four)

GUEST OF MARTHA WASHINGTON HOTEL ATTACKED IN ROOM

Soldier From Camp Pendleton Sentenced By Judge White To Serve 5 Years in State Penitentiary.

Noell G. Griffin, of Chester, Virginia, a guest of the Martha Washington Hotel, was attacked in his room on Sunday afternoon by three soldiers. One from Camp Pendleton and two from Camp Ashby.

Engaging the three boys in conversation over the lunch counter, Mr. Griffin offered them the use of his room, shower and shaving paraphernalia and gave them the key. A few minutes later he followed the soldiers to the room and upon entering found his bag had been slashed open with a knife. He inquired as to the meaning of it, whereupon he was struck upon the head with a wine bottle and knocked down and cut about the face with the broken end. When Mr. Griffin called for help the three boys made their escape through the window.

The Virginia Beach Police Department was immediately notified and within less than thirty minutes had the boys under arrest. Mr. Griffin was most enthusiastic in his praise of the efficient manner in which the men of the Police Department apprehended the boys in such a short time, with so many men in uniform on the streets.

At the preliminary hearing Monday before Judge Reed, Mr. Griffin exonerated two of the boys as taking no part in the attack and they were released. The case of the third was held for further questioning.

Wednesday, March 8, the case was brought before Judge White who placed a sentence of five years in the State Penitentiary on the grounds of felony. It is understood that the soldier in question has been up for two section eight offenses in the Army but was released due to an exceptionally high I. Q.

Mr. Griffin is employed by the National Drug Company of Philadelphia, Pa.

Princess Anne Theaters Raise $85,000 in March Of Dimes Drive

FIFTY PER CENT TO STAY IN COUNTY

Basil O'Connor, National Foundation President, Honored At Luncheon.

W. C. Crockett, State Chairman for theaters in the "March of Dimes" campaign reports that $85,000 was realized throughout the state in the theaters alone. 50% of the amount raised in each county is retained for local use and 50% goes to the National Foundation Fund in New York City. In Princess Anne County the total was $298,000, leaving $149,000 in the community and sending $149,000 to New York. The theaters in Norfolk City netted for the drive $27,278.50 and in Norfolk County $3,643.58.

Luncheon Held

On Thursday, March 9, at 12:30 P.M. in the dining room of the Navy Y.M.C.A. in Norfolk, the principles in the drive met for luncheon. Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation, G. Jeter Jones, Chairman for Virginia, Raymond C. Hall, Director of the organization and W. C. Crockett, theater chairman were among the distinguished guests.

Unique Marker To Be Placed At 17th and Ocean

Sun Dials To Show Time Zones Across Continent.

At the weekly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Virginia Beach Monday night, March 6th, the contract for placing six sun dials at 17th Street and the Ocean was given Hampton Rich, National Director of the Boone Trail Association on the six posters there and at the point where six years ago the Boone Trail Marker was dedicated by an address by Dr. W. H. T. Squires, Historian of Virginia. This marker marks the Atlantic terminus of the Transcontinental Trail.

The dials will indicate the time zones of first, London and Devonshire, England, from which latter point Boone ancestors migrated to this country in 1717; second, time zone in Mid-Atlantic; next the zone at Virginia Beach or Eastern Standard Time, then in succession, Central Time, Rocky Mountain Time, and Pacific Coast time.

This unique arrangement of sun dials will be the only one in America showing the zones across the continent.

The Boone Trail Highway reaches Virginia Beach through two routes, one through Chapel Hill and Raleigh over which Boone came, according to history in 1752, in a two horse wagon to Tidewater Virginia, the other through Williamsburg over which Boone came to Williamsburg in 1781 when he came as a commissioner from the counties of Kentucky then a part of Virginia.

UN-QUIET ON THE POTOMAC

J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., March — The Administration asked for additional taxes of more than 10 billion dollars. The Congress spent weeks in studying the whole question and decided that about one-quarter of that amount would furnish our Government all the revenue needed for all purposes. There is nothing anywhere to indicate that Congress was either persuaded or convinced that the size of its tax bill would be inadequate for war and domestic requirements.

Therefore Congress could not approve of the demands of the U. S. Treasury, even though the President backed the Secretary of the Treasury. Hence the veto of the famous tax bill of 1944.

There is no denying the fact that the Congress exercised its constitutional rights when it refused to add many billion dollars to the nation's tax bill. The President vetoed the legislation. The language used in his veto message was offensive; Senator Barkley called it a "deliberate and calculated assault upon the honesty and integrity of Congress." The President promptly denied any such intentions. Nevertheless he did not withdraw his statement that "it is not a tax bill but a tax relief bill, providing relief not for the needy but for the greedy."

In the background is a long record of waste and extravagance by the President, which has been practically unchecked by Congress. The Senate and House have been putting off the inevitable break with the White House for several years. Little wonder that Mr. Roosevelt became too sure of his leadership and finally made the mistake of overstepping the bounds of reason, by lambasting Congress for disobeying his orders to heap another unreasonable burden on American taxpayers.

The EXPECTED happened: After twelve years of backing-the-President, right or wrong, Congress finally declared its INDEPENDENCE.

This means that Congress will probably exercise "Dutch courage" and take over many responsibilities that are being administered, boarded, brass-hatted, commission-labor-leaderized. The possible effects on the next election are beyond the imagination of the political prophets.

There is reason to expect more efficient and careful attention to affairs all the way along the home front, with better planning for the problems of returning soldiers, unemployment, the rights of independent business, decrease in agitation for the entrance of the Government into competition with industry, and a gradual fade-out of many of the experiments that the New Deal failed to make work.

Despite everything, the line holds firm and united so far as the conduct of the war is concerned.

Taxation may be painful but so is war. So the man who faces the enemy.

The 1944 presidential election will take place November 7.

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia

(By Frances Leigh Williams)

SOLDIER VOTE ISSUE GRIPS ASSEMBLY

The soldier vote has remained a leading issue in the General Assembly right up to the closing days of the session. The House of Delegates last week unanimously passed the American Legion-sponsored bill, which would give full voting privileges to all Virginia soldiers and sailors in all primaries and elections. Following passage by the House, this "War Voters' Law" was referred to a Senate subcommittee for study before introduction to the Senate. Senator M. M. Long, of Wise, Chairman, announced that his committee would not be able to present their recommended bill for several days. An amendment was then proposed and passed in both House and Senate which would allow introduction of a bill on the soldiers' vote up to the last day of the session.

Differing from the Legion proposal is the Weaver bill sponsored by Senator Aubrey Weaver, administration leader, which would give servicemen the vote in national elections this year. Following a visit to Richmond last week of U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd, it was stated that Byrd favored a bill of the Weaver type. Senator Byrd was reported to believe it cheaper for the assembly, if necessary, to be called back for a special session next year to solve the problems of State and local elections than to establish the fund to pay the poll tax for servicemen as called for in the Legion sponsored "War Voters' Law."

There has been a growing concern in Virginia over the indifference of much of the electorate to come out and vote. A mighty fight, for instance, was made to achieve the vote for women, yet there are many women who do not consistently cast their ballots when election day comes around. When the responsible citizenry of the State grows apathetic about voting, small groups with special or even subversive interests have their chance. They know what they and their fellows want and they see to it that all favoring their views register them by ballot. It is up to all the citizens of Virginia to rethink what America stands for and what she fights for even as will the servicemen who vote from the front lines of that fight.

Every report from the front, whether South Pacific, England or Italy, tells of the servicemen's all-absorbing interest in his home. He remembers the good things and dreams of his home. He deliberately seeks to forget the unpleasant. The way to create such sound homes has been excellently presented in the booklet described by the War Department as "probably the most challenging statement of this nation's philosophy of national defense that has yet been written." General John J. Pershing, in his Foreword to this booklet YOU CAN DEFEND AMERICA said, "I commend its message to every American." The booklet, describing the relationship of fighters to their homes, says, "Homes are the cement of national life. The place where the nation learns how to live together. The non-stop assembly line of character which is the heart of national morale. If homes crack, the nation cracks."

"Many of us would willingly die for our family, but sometimes find it pretty tough having to live with them. So Father pays the bills. Mother worries. The children do as they please. We like to sing 'Home Sweet Home' — when we're away from home."

"A soldier dreams of his home. He will fight hard for the home he loves. Homes that are sound are worth fighting for. Where the family hide nothing from one another and help one another to give their best. Where there is plenty of laughter and love. Where meals are not just gulp and go, but where the company and conversation are as good as the food. Where the welcome sign is always out. Where neighbors can drop in to borrow a cup of flour and find real friendship. And courage when times are hard."

"Such families carry out war time regulations cheerfully. No boarding. No wangling on the side. No waste in the ice box, cash box, brain box. Their thrift makes for victory on the home front and a sound nation ahead.

TIRE QUOTAS INCREASED

March rationing quotas of tires and tubes show slight increases over February in passenger and truck tire allocations and a decrease in the farm tractor and implement field.

The new truck and bus tire quota for the nation is about 18,000 larger than in February, but 13,000 less than the quota a year ago. The new truck tube quota is about the same as the quota for February.

WAR BONDS will buy a stake in our country's future.

NATIONAL

is well worth the high price it commands. It is a distinct type of beer—unlike popular-priced beers. One finds it today in a limited number of exclusive spots from coast to coast.

Arrangements have been made to send some to Virginia—as a token of VICTORY.

BREWED BY THE NATIONAL BREWING CO. BALTIMORE 24, MD.

"I Would..."

... give my blood to save his life if he were wounded ...

cheer him up when homesickness pulls him down ... try to make him forget the horrors of war ... take on my shoulders his worries for the welfare of those at home ... give him unexpected comforts — precious on that account ... if he were taken prisoner see that he got extra foods, warm clothing and needed medicine ... if he were crippled or blind help him in his smaller world."

Yes, we would do all of these things for every man in the armed forces if we were closer to their side.

Here on the home front, industry has done a big job, and we, as individuals, have bought War Bonds and have given much of our time to war projects.

But sometimes we grumble about meat shortages ... gasoline shortages ... rationing ... high taxes.

How puny—how terribly small—are the things we have given up and the things we are asked to do, compared to the sacrifices he has made—the blood and sweat he still must shed, the hardships he must endure before this war is won.

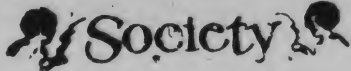

There is one way you can be with him ... one way you can reach out to him, wherever he may be—in the frozen wastes of Iceland or the steaming jungles of Pacific islands; in a far-off prison camp or on a hospital cot. And that way is through the Red Cross. So dig deep and give generously to the Red Cross War Fund, and be glad. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side and the RED CROSS is YOU!

Theater Previews

"THE IRON MAJOR" will be seen at the Bayne Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11. This gripping story, starring Pat O'Brien, Ruth Warrick, Robert Ryan and Leon Ames, graphically presents the inspiring career of a famous football coach and war hero.

Giving the versatile Pat O'Brien one of his finest roles, "The Iron Major" stars the Irish screen favorite in the life of the late Major Frank Cavanaugh, one of the nation's foremost gridiron mentors.

Cavanaugh's action in enlisting in the Army during World War I, despite his age and his family responsibilities, because of his conviction that a man should fight for what he thought right, carries an inspiring message to every American today. And it was for the purpose of bringing that message to the public that the picture was made.

Another epic production will follow on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Henry Travers and Albert Basserman in "MADAME CURIE." The film tells the story of the Curies and dramatically presents the history of the discovery of the wonder-element — radium.

Wednesday and Thursday, Claire Trevor, Albert Dekker, Barry Sullivan and Henry Hull will be starred in "THE WOMAN OF THE TOWN." This film is based on an historical legend of the 1870's and the life of William Barclay Masterston, known to his friends as the "Bat."

At the ROLAND — on Friday and Saturday, Sidney Blackmer, Byron Foulger, Ricki Vallin and Herbert Rawlinson will be featured in "THE PANTHER'S CLAW."

Sunday and Monday: "DRUMS OF FU MANCHU," starring Henry Brandon, William Royle, Robert Kellard and Gloria Franklin. Also Red Barry in "FUGITIVE FROM SONORA."

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be another double feature — "DAWN EXPRESS," also Wild Bill Elliott in "OVERLAND MAIL ROBBERY."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, would you mind tellin' Charlie here what you told me the other night walkin' home from lodge I can't word it just the way you did."

"Sure thing, Tim. Here's what I told him, Charlie. There's no such thing as votin' a nation, a state, a county, or even a community dry. We had proof enough of that during our 13 years of prohibition. What you really vote for is whether liquor is going to be sold legally or illegally. Whether the community is going to get needed taxes for schools, hospitals, and the like, or whether this money is going to go to gangsters and bootleggers. That's the answer boys simple as A-B-C."

Millions of homes throughout the United States will display the American Red Cross Service Flag in front windows signifying participation in the 1944 War Fund. The familiar Red Cross label flag also will find its place on many coats this year. Scrap metal, of no value for other purposes, was used in preparation of the flag. Let every civilian in Princess Anne County wear the flag — for like the Campaign Bar worn by servicemen, it will mean participation in America's humanitarian war effort. No real American need be reminded how important his contribution is.

POSTWAR COMMITTEE MEETS
At the conclusion of the regular Council meeting the members of the Postwar Planning Committee met to discuss the needs of Virginia Beach when the Federal Government allocates funds for community improvement after the war. H. Holt is chairman and R. L. Jones, secretary of this committee. John B. McGahery, engineer, associated with the Norfolk firm of Myron A. Sturgeon and Company, met with the committee to formulate plans for improvement. These plans, when completed, will be presented to the Council for approval and filed until such time as they are needed. The members of the Council of Virginia Beach will be prepared to present definite requirements when the Postwar funds are allocated.

- 1 Buy well-bred, pulldrum-free chicks from a reliable nearby hatchery.
- 2 Have a clean, warm house ready for the chicks when they arrive. Plenty of room and ample feeding and watering space will help keep chicks healthy and growing.

A request for an increase in top legal prices for blenders of country cane syrup has been denied by the Office of Price Administration. Blenders who made the request declared that higher ceiling prices were needed because of an increase in the cost of pure cane syrup, effective in December, 1943. Denial of the request followed an OPA accounting study of the blending industry which showed that present prices permit a profit to blenders equal to that which they made in a recent representative peace-time period.

NEW RUBBER BOOT PRICES

New dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for waterproof rubber footwear — including rubbers, articles, gaiters and rubber boots — went into effect over the United States last week, OPA has announced.

In general, prices are increased above six percent over those which were in effect for "victory line" rubber footwear last year because the wearing quality of currently made goods has been considerably improved through greater use of synthetic rubber.

OPA's new ceilings apply from mail order levels to all groups of retail stores.

Care For 200,000 Babies

Nearly 200,000 babies and their mothers were cared for up to February 1 under the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care Program. Hospital and medical care are provided without cost to wives of Service men in the four lowest pay grades, during pregnancy, childbirth, and for six weeks after the baby is born, and for the infant during its first year.

Women Farm Workers OK

The work of non-farm women, including teachers, college students, stenographers, and professionals, on farms in the United States during 1943 satisfied farmers, who have indicated willingness to employ them more extensively this year. Recruiting is handled by the Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Employment Service.

Local Women Organize At Camp Pendleton To Help Soldiers

New Organization Called "Personal Affairs Division"

Mrs. Charles F. Shuford Elected Chairman Of Executive Committee

On March 14, 1944, the following women, prominent in local welfare activities for soldiers, met at Camp Pendleton, to arrange procedures designed to provide information and render assistance on personal affairs to all members or former members of the Army (except Army Air Forces, which has its division), their dependents and dependents of deceased military men.

Mrs. Charles F. Shuford was unanimously elected Chairman of the Executive Committee, consisting of Mrs. Watson K. Frederick, Mrs. Milton L. Levy, Mrs. R. G. Barr, Mrs. J. Stanley Crockett, Mrs. J. C. McNamara, and Mrs. Robert B. Taylor.

The patriotic services and extensive experience of all of them during a considerable period has rendered them particularly able to carry out the policies of the War Department and to give all possible aid to the Camp Pendleton Personal Affairs Division.

Their particular duties will include organizing the procedures in surrounding local communities, visiting homes of military personnel, arranging for medical care and hospitalization, establishing day nurseries as warranted, providing clerical assistance and rendering aid to the solution of the many special problems that arise. The Personal Affairs Division will formulate policies and establish procedures governing giving information and assistance on personal affairs such as emergency financial assistance, six-months' gratuity pay, allowances, arrears in pay, War Bonds, government and commercial insurance, pensions, legal assistance, employment, vocational rehabilitation, hospitalization, local housing facilities, personnel effects and other matters.

Though not assuming any of the administrative or operation functions of the agencies the PAD will maintain close liaison with the Army Emergency Relief, American Red Cross, Veterans Administration, General Accounting Office, Office of Dependents Benefits, Fiscal Director, Office of the Judge Advocate General, bar associations, Legal Aid Societies, Civil Service Commissions, United States Employment Service, Selective Service and Federal Social Security.

Any dependent of soldier needing aid in personal affairs is requested to contact Major Watson K. Frederick, Director Personal Affairs Division, Camp Pendleton, or at same address, Major Thomas H. Mundy, Major John W. McNair, Chaplain Henry G. Spraggins, Chief Warrent Officer Parker V. Slocumb.

Any women desirous of helping in this work are requested to telephone any member of the Women's Committee.

Princess Anne Far Exceeds Goal In Seal Sale

Field Worker To Be In County Week Of April 3

Essay Contest To Be Conducted In Schools

Exceeding the goal of $2,250 by $688.96, the sale of tuberculosis seals in Princess Anne County amounted to $3,121.96, according to a report, made at the quarterly meeting of the Princess Anne Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Harry G. Walker, entomologist of the Virginia Experiment Station, Diamond Springs, was elected treasurer, succeeding Edward C. Turner. Mrs. Rufus Parks, president, and Mrs. Francis A. Gray, secretary, were re-elected. Mrs. Parks appointed Mrs. Harry G. Walker chairman of the seal sale this year.

Stressing the importance of case findings in persons between the ages of 20 and 30, Capt. E. W. Lange, Army Medical Corps director of the Public Health Department in Princess Anne and Norfolk counties, discussed "Early Diagnosis of Tuberculosis and Improved Methods of Diagnosis." He urged that mass X-Ray surveys be conducted for children and adults in one of the few States which operates a 35-millimeter mobile X-Ray machine which is available to every county," he said. "This unit can X-ray 500 persons a day."

Miss Lillian Ashley, Princess Anne County public health nurse, reported that the association supports three children in the St. Anne's Preventorium, and one adult in a sanatorium. Ninety-three persons were X-rayed in the January clinic, she added.

Mrs. R. G. Barr, Educational Chairman, announced that Miss Mary Alice Young, State Field worker, will be in the county for the entire week beginning April 3. She will speak to various organizations in regard to early diagnosis.

Essay Contest In White and Colored Schools

Princess Anne County Medical Society To Meet With Town Citizens

Plans and Possibilities For Local Hospital To Be Discussed

All Interested Citizens Of Virginia Beach Urged To Attend

A feeling is being engendered among leading citizens of Virginia Beach that there is a dire need for a small but well equipped hospital in Princess Anne County or Virginia Beach proper. There is a real hazard in having to drive twenty miles to Norfolk to the nearest hospital in case of injury or serious accident and then to realize the over crowded conditions and over worked medical staff on duty in all Norfolk institutions.

Medical Society Cooperating

Virginia Beach is a growing town. There are great possibilities and a great need. Citizens of Virginia Beach are urged to attend this meeting. ## Col. W. I. Jordan Praises Work Of Marines In Pacific

ENNUBRIER ISLAND, KWAJALEIN ATOLL, MARSHALL ISLANDS — (Delayed) — No longer can the Marine Corps Personnel Classification Section staff members be eluded as "rear echelon" or "back troops."

That label was wiped off the books when the Fourth Marine Division invaded the Marshall Islands.

Three members of a Classification Section, Second Lieutenant R. G. Boydston, of Houston, Texas; Corporal Harold Owings, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Private First Class A. S. Barr, of Boyertown, Pa., came ashore while bullets were still flying.

Most valuable work of the section, Lieutenant Boydston said, was keeping in constant contact with battalion sergeant majors, to maintain an up-to-the-minute record of casualties according to rank and job, thus expediting the replacement machinery.

"Classification has done an excellent job," said Lieutenant Colonel Walter I. Jordan, whose family lives at 317 24th Street, Virginia Beach, Va. "Their work was invaluable. Frankly, this was an innovation, but in future operations, classification certainly must be in the forward echelon." Lieutenant Colonel Jordan, an observer at Tarawa, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute.

Lieutenant Boydston praised the work of his aides in overcoming obstacles to get their reports, which were not generally obtainable by radio or telephone communication.

Corporal Owings "commuted" between the numerous islands here to get required information, and

Adamson and Jordan Resign

C. M. Adamson and J. M. Jordan, recently appointed to serve as members of the Food Panel of the War Price and Rationing Board have tendered their resignations to J. Fulmer Bright, District Director. Mr. Jordan's letter to the Director is as follows:

March 10, 1944
Mr. J. Fulmer Bright,
District Director
Office of Price Administration
Schmidt Building
Richmond, Va.

Dear Mr. Bright: I am very sorry to advise that I must herewith tender my resignation as a member of the Food Panel of the War Price and Rationing Board No. 48-7-1 effective immediately.

It was my understanding when approached regarding this matter that the panel would be permitted to use their own discretion and authority in dealing with any unusual conditions that might arise concerning the operation (from a standpoint of food) of restaurants, hotels and other places serving sandwiches, etc., which are so very essential in this overcrowded area. I am now of the opinion that the food panel will not have these liberties and the decisions will be governed entirely by the Richmond district office.

I wish to thank you very much for the confidence that you placed in me and again expressing my regrets for the decision I have made, I am

Yours sincerely,
JAMES M. JORDAN, JR.

Mother's Day Is the closest Sunday in May

Several times was within range of enemy fire.

Private First Class Barr, 21, said it took him 12 hours to make a round-trip from one unit to another the day following "D Day." He had to hitch-hike, using four boats and a ship, and stopping at four different islands. The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Barr, of 223 West Philadelphia Avenue, Boyertown, he joined the service December 7, 1942. His wife, Ruth, is a nurse at Girard College at Philadelphia.

"A LITTLE BIT OF HEAVEN"

Figuratively speaking, how much we appreciate vision after being in the dark. The removal of the barricade at the end of 17th street has opened a new, yet old, vista.

Of necessity one of the most pleasing outlooks of Virginia Beach was blotted out. The view of the ocean as one approached the Beach via 17th street was obliterated by the high board fence. 'Tis true it served a noble purpose. It not only shielded lights which might have directed an alien attack, but furnished an excellent billboard for the Rfd Cross, Bond Drives, Infantile Paralysis and other worthy posters. Even the noblest must pass. The Daniel Boone Trail marker once again stands out in bold relief against a sky, the like of which can be found no where else.

We congratulate those who once again give to travelers on 17th street a pleasant picture in place of a grim reminder. The removal of the barricade and what it means gives the view of "A little bit of Heaven" which goes a long way to bolster a morale which has been lowered by facts and figures and grim realities.

THE CHAPLAINS' CORPS

By Ruth Taylor

H. I. Phillips, that typical American columnist, who can turn a quip with the best of them, and make you laugh with his home-style humor, can with equal skill touch your heartstrings with his sincere devotion to the ideals that are American.

Recently Mr. Phillips wrote a fine tribute to the Chaplains' Corps — that unselfish, whole-souled body of men, who, owning allegiance to the spirit of the working democracy that is the United States, own a still higher allegiance to that God in whom our nation trusts. Protestant or Jew — they may differ in creed — but they are alike in their devotion, and in their faith that to God all things are possible. Theirs is a fine tradition, to which they are adding greater laurels on battle fronts all over the world.

"The priest who puts the water on dry lips,
The rector leading tired men in prayer —
The rabbi with the word of Abraham,
Each doing quietly his holy share —
These are the men who ease the weary path,
Who touch the heart and heal the harassed soul,
Who keep the vision of the boyhood day,
Preserving things learned at a mother's knee."

Anyone with a man at the front — and what family today hasn't a man there? — feels better because of these men. They are the unarmed soldiers, going without pay, into the battle. They face, unafraid because of their faith, the same dangers that confront the men who turn to them for comfort. Never faltering in their duty, they are, at all times, ministers unto men, teachers of the truth, preachers of the way, consolers of the dying.

"The Catholic, the Protestant, the Jew —
As one they give the all sustaining grace
To those who die to keep our way of life
Without regard to color, faith or race."

Theirs is the symbol of a nation strong.
The force that makes a country's shield so bright;
The Chaplains' Corps of gallant Godlike men,
Who blaze the way with the Eternal Light."

All honor unto the chaplains of our armed forces! They, too, are heroes, of whom the whole nation is proud and to whom we each owe a debt of gratitude!

OUR CHANGING COUNTRY

March — There has been so much speculation about One World that it is time to examine affairs of our changing country. Within the period of half a month following the "blow-off" by Senator Barkley, the President and his Administration have been put on the defensive.

Democrats and Republicans apparently have succeeded in becoming "independent." If that determination later Congress will fulfill its responsibilities to the people as the legislative branch of the Government.

The Republicans have made great gains in the past two years and have captured most of the Governorships in the Northern States, and there is every reason to believe that the next lower House of Congress will be Republican, with the possibility that the Senate will also be anti-Roosevelt.

There has been much open opposition against the fourth term since the first of the present month than in any previous period of time. The theory that one should "never swap horses crossing a stream" has been attacked in the Senate.

The Republican leaders have fresh hopes that they will be able to "stop Roosevelt." But those same leaders are not agreed upon a candidate to lead their political procession this fall.

With so many great questions involved in the affairs of our changing country it is certain that the coming campaign will be a very bitter battle.

FREEDOM WITHOUT TRIMMINGS

The wish that seems to be expressed most often by American service men throughout the world is that after this war they want to come home to the same kind of a country they left. They don't want a streamlined, regimented society, before the war there was freedom, and this is what our men hope, above everything else, to find when they return.

At present the feeling that freedom is in deadly peril hangs heavy over the land. Seidom, if ever, in the history of the country, have the people talked so much of freedom, while never has their freedom been so restricted. Today the energies of every thinking person are devoted to preserving liberty.

The president of a leading oil company recently voiced the thought of many people when he said: "It is important to remember that the oil industry, like all American business, has been able to accomplish the extraordinary war job, because, in time of peace, the companies were competing with each other to make better products by better methods. Spurred on by this competition, the skill of the American worker and the ability of American business management combine to make this country the industrial leader of the world. What this means to us today, in war, is dramatically demonstrated by the fact that three years ago the United States was the weakest in armament among the great nations, and now has become the strongest in armament. With this kind of support, our military forces and those of our Allies are now moving steadily toward victory."

Competition depends on freedom, just as does the privilege of attending the church of our choice. Yes, plain, unadorned freedom is our most precious possession.

FAITH — AS OTHERS SEE IT

Whatever 1944 may bring, we have a weapon not possessed by our enemies — Faith! It is stronger than tanks and planes and guns, and human venom. It is an invincible force, requiring no vast plants, no camps, no reserves of material armament. It needs no intricate fabrication . . . no stock-piles behind the lines. Faith is within us — a God-given power, against which no peril of darkness may long prevail!

From every quarter of the embattled globe where we fight, come stories of this beautiful, spiritual Faith. A tough corporal in a mortar pit on Guadalcanal with his wounded around him, a relentless foe showed death around them. "There are no atheists in foxholes" has become a tradition. From North Africa comes the story that the top gunner of a British bomber was sitting on the floor reading his Bible.

They hold it in their souls, these

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia

(By Frances Leigh Williams)

1944 ASSEMBLY CLOSES ISSUE NOW UP TO CITIZENS

The 1944 General Assembly of Virginia on Saturday passed into history after an earnest hard-working session of the full sixty days. The business left to complete on the last day was decided on in an atmosphere of sincere grief over the deaths of Senator Aubrey G. Weaver and the widow of the late Governor James H. Price. Both were victims of the preceding night of the tragic Jefferson Hotel fire.

The Senate adopted without discussion House amendments to the administration-supported Senate soldier voting measures previously passed unanimously by the House.

Teacher pay was not increased beyond the sum recommended by the Governor but approximately $4,000,000 was sent back to the localities to be used for the biennium as they see fit. It is hoped much of this will go to the teachers.

The Governor's program, as recommended in his opening address, went through much as he desired it. There were defeats for the administration on only two major bills: the Coburn Bill, which would have distributed the State surplus at the end of the 1944 biennium, and the McCandlish Bill, which would have required a declaration of intention by those coming into the State a year before they would be allowed to vote.

The session was marked by a patriotic attitude of "Let's get on with the job," but never at the expense of a full expression of opinion.

With the close of the 1944 General Assembly, legislator and average citizen alike will ponder what the next two years will bring before the Assembly meets again. There are some certainties — the invasion of Europe, the President.

COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS APPOINTS AND FIRES FLOYD DEARY, CAPABLE CO-ORDINATOR

"I Have Often Regretted My Speech, Never My Silence"

fighting men: "If history teaches anything, it is that no nation is great and no nation is strong unless its people are united with Faith — a righteous Faith."

1944 therefore sets up as its standard, on the fighting fronts and at home, this undefeatable weapon — Divine Faith. — Omaha Presbyterian Church Bulletin.

NOTES ON V-MAIL LETTERS

Not a single V-Mail letter of the 233 million sent overseas has been lost, according to the Army and Navy, emphasizing the fact that V-Mail always gets to men in combat areas everywhere.

The Army sends much of the ordinary air-mail by convoy. The Navy still sends such mail by plane, but because of demands on cargo space may discontinue this practice, the Office of War Information reports. V-Mail is regularly flown to its destination both by the Army and Navy.

Because V-Mail always arrives safely, the Navy advises that all discussion of legal or urgent matters, as well as regular correspondence, be carried on by V-Mail rather than by ordinary mail.

When the Pan-American clipper was lost at Lisbon last year, the 300,000 V-Mail letters aboard were the only part of the cargo salvaged. The letters, known to be in the destroyed V-Mail films, were immediately reprinted and the new films were flown overseas, the military postal services report.

At the height of ship sinkings in the Atlantic during two months early in 1943, several million ordinary letters sent overseas were lost, the Army said. Had these letters been sent V-Mail they would have been salvaged. V-Mail letters films lost in transit are always reproduced.

One roll of V-Mail film weighs tial election, an intensification of the war against Japan.

The next two years may be America's great chance to make democracy work so effectively that, when peace is declared, other nations will want a similar political way of life. The keystone of democracy is that every citizen is equally as responsible as the other. In this biennium Virginians will be building the structure on which her post-war era will be based.

The soldier's vote is important; so is that of those on the home front, whether it be for President or Member of the Town Council.

Teachers' pay is important — so is teachers' character. Schools will raise up leaders when every citizen values character in teachers as much as college degrees. Young Virginians will continue to be taught the great American principles if each citizen is determined that subversive teachings are never to be tolerated in school or college.

The Legislature has appropriated much money. Most of the money is specifically allocated but each citizen can help to see that none is wasted. Everyone is conscious of taxes; everyone can help see that local taxes are spent for the right things.

Day by day the patriotic Virginian can help build that spirit of cooperation that will make possible harmonious agreement on such questions as location of consolidation schools and belt highways when postwar construction begins. For unity is not a question of who's right, but of what's right. A united people will have the spirit which no disaster will shake and no danger weaken. A united people will build the new America — a nation set free from fear, hate and greed — obedient to God — a nation that holds the secret of a new world.

INDUCTION, 1944

"I, Milton White..."

I, Milton White, or William McBrien, or Walter Krawczyk, or Stairos Stavropoulos, "I or poor, white or black, Catholic, Protestant, Jew—now, at this moment, we are one. Our hands upraised are one hand, our voices quietly repeating the oath of induction are one, our hearts pounding nervously are one. I Milton White. This is it, then. The beginning of a farewell to one life: sleeping in one's own bed, seeing one's family every day walking familiar streets, and nodding to familiar people. And this is the beginning of another life, too: fellows in khaki who will become your friends, camp life, barrack life, and all those things you have read about, now to become a reality—K. P. furloughs, G. I. clothes, and rations, bugle calls...

"...do solemnly swear (or affirm)..."

Solemnly. Yes, that's right. Faces really are solemn, even the young faces. A few feet away is a kid from across the street. I remember him when he was in knickers, delivering newspapers after school. He's eighteen now, and he's standing straight, his hand upraised, his face solemn... Solemn, but unafraid.

"...that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America..."

The United States of America. That would be Whittier Street, Springfield, Our street and our town. And that would be all the other streets and towns in America. It's to them we're bearing true faith and allegiance; to them and to that flag standing in front of us; to all our mental images of the United States: the cotton fields and old homes of the South, the quiet, flat farmlands of the middle states, the blue skies and seas of the West Coast, the overwhelming peace and isolation and fragrance of Cape Cod...

"...and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever..."

Nazis and Fascists and Japs on Whittier Street in Springfield, on our street and in our town. That's what brings the war close, that thought. That's what we're going to be fighting for: to keep them away from our street and our town. After all, this war is personal. We're fighting it so that the kids skipping rope down near the corner can continue skipping rope and laughing; so that the family can be together again under one roof, and make plans and look ahead...

"...and that I will obey the orders of the President of the United States and the orders of the officers appointed over me..."

Greetings, the President wrote, and here I am. It hasn't been so bad so far except for that Sergeant who has been bossing us around all day. He's a bum. All Sergeants are bums. Or do I already feel that way just because in another moment...

"...according to the rules and articles of War..."

There. It's done. Hands are down. Quite unconsciously shoulders are back, and chests are out. "Men, you are now, all of you, members of the Army of the United States."

Members of the Army of the United States. That includes me — Private Milton White. Sounds good, doesn't it? Private Milton...White.

BOOKS TO OWN

One weekend in the age of automobile pleasure trips, the writer, Anya Seton, and her husband went for a drive up the Hudson River Valley region. It was on this trip that an old man, alleged to be haunted, was pointed out to her.

She made other visits to this section after that and became increasingly interested in the life that flourished along the river a hundred years ago. Out of her research has come her exciting novel, "Dragonwyck," about a haunted house and the people who lived in it.

The story concerns Nicholas Van Ryn, who ruled estates of Dragonwyck in a system of medieval feudalism; of Joanna, his fat and food-loving wife, and her mysterious death; and Miranda, the golden-haired romantic young girl who unwittingly becomes involved in the sinister fortunes of the great house. Among the personages who play an incidental part in this story are a tortured young poet named Edgar Allan Poe, a sailor, Herman Melville, whose powerful first novel, "Typhoon," causes such a stir in literary circles. Mr. P. T. Barnum and Tom Thumb, and Martin Van Buren.

Anya Seton is the daughter of Ernest Thompson Seton, who many years ago won over the youth of America with his stories of animals and wildlife. "Dragonwyck" appeared originally in the Ladies Home Journal and is on the way of becoming a major film.

A WOMAN IN A GARDEN

By Grace Nell Crowell

I had listened to the news of war till earth and sky turned black. I bore the burdens of the world, it seemed upon my back. Then suddenly I realized That some way I must shift That burden to a Higher Power Before the clouds could lift. I prayed about it — then I went Out where my garden lay: A darkly-lovely, quaking thing There in the bright spring day. I sank upon my knees and felt The soil beneath my hand, And I thanked God that through this war We have the good, clean land.

Southern States Calf Starter

Saves Milk Builds Better Calves

CALVES naturally prefer milk. But they also need bulky feed for building strong bodies and big milkies. The Southern States Calf Starter program not only builds big milk producers but permits dairymen to send more milk to market and cuts calf rearing costs (often as much as $15 to $25). Here is the easy-to-follow program:

► Take the calf away from the dam 24 to 48 hours after it is born and let it get hungry. Teach it to drink from a pail.

► As soon as the calf has learned to drink from a pail, teach it to eat Southern States Calf Starter by holding a little in your hand.

► Fasten a box in the calf pen and put in a fresh supply of Calf Starter each day.

► At 2 to 3 weeks put early cut hay in a rack and at 3 weeks start giving calves fresh water daily.

► When calves are eating 3 to 4 lbs. of Calf Starter a day, mix in a little Southern States Fitting Ration and change entirely to Fitting Ration at 16 weeks.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Sorry Judge, my shipment of suspenders just hasn't come in. Some articles are mighty scarce these days. I don't get anywhere near as much as I could sell."

"With the war going on, Frank, we've got to expect those things. It's true of luxuries just as it is of necessities. Take whiskey, for example. There's a real shortage in that. It's to be expected when you realize there hasn't been a drop of it distilled in this country since way back in October, 1942."

"The only thing distillers have been making during that time is war-alcohol for the Government. So, I wasn't surprised a bit to read how bootlegging and black markets have sprung up around the country as a result of the dwindling supply. Our 13 years of prohibition proved that if folks can't get legal whiskey, they'll get illicit whiskey. Sure hope the shortage doesn't last too long. I'd hate to see this country turned over to the bootleggers again."

Theater Previews

"JANE EYRE," starring Orson Wells, Joan Fontaine, John Sutton and Margaret O'Brien will be the attraction at the Bayne Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18. This is one of the top notch pictures of the season. This picture of the celebrated novel by Charlotte Bronte is of life in England a century ago and is a superb presentation from every angle.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday — "LIFE BOAT," will be the feature — William Bendix, Tallulah Bankhead, Walter Selzak and Mary Anderson are starred in this absorbing drama in the best Hitchcock tradition. The story moves at a good pace, its entire action taking place in a life boat in which Tallulah Bankhead finds herself after a submarine attack on an Allied freighter — alone with a milk coat, a movie camera, a portable typewriter and a diamond bracelet.

"LOST ANGEL," starring James Craig, Margaret O'Brien, Marsha Hunt and Keenan Wynn will come to the Bayne.

Wednesday and Thursday — The film deals with the adventures of a scientifically reared child prodigy after she meets an irresponsible newspaper reporter.

The Roland will open its doors Friday and Saturday on "THE ADVENTURES OF A ROOKIE" — with Wally Brown and Alan Carney in the title roles. This is something new and timely in the slam-bang comedy line showing the lives of three young men snatched out of civilian life and tossed into unfamiliar environment of an army training camp. A highly entertaining film. Also the added attraction Ken Maynard in "ARIZONA WHIRLWIND."

Sunday and Monday "TORNADO" will be on the screen. A melodramatic love story starring Chester Morris, Nancy Kelly, Bill Henry and Gwen Kenyon.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will feature a double bill again — Sidney Blackmer in "PRISON GIRLS" and Dave O'Brien in "BOSS OF RAWHIDE."

PLow GARDEN SOON IF NOT ALREADY PLOWED

BLACKSBURG — March is "get down to work" month for Victory and farm gardeners, and it's time to have manure, fertilizer and seed on hand and ready to use.

If the garden has not been plowed, do this as soon as possible, advise vegetable gardening specialists for the Virginia Agricultural Extension Division. Manure may be spread before plowing, and you will want to disc or harrow thoroughly to get a good, firm seedbed.

At least 11 vegetables can be planted in March, say the specialists. The exact day of week depends on the season and the section of the state in which the gardener lives. Vegetables to plant this month include parsnips, salsify, carrots, beets, onions, peas, potatoes, lettuce, spinach, mustard, radish, and others.

A time-table for planting vegetables in Virginia can be secured from your county farm and home agent, who can also supply you with other gardening information.

Many gardeners made the mistake of planting their seeds too thick last spring. Extension men point out. Gardeners will also do well to remember not to cover the seeds too deeply when planting and not to plant when the soil is wet.

Ration Reminder

Even though the use of ration books is proceeding smoothly, OPA is reminding shoppers to remove their red and blue stamps from the top row of the page in alphabetical order and not in up and down strips as was the case in previous ration books. Moreover, all red and blue stamps now have a uniform point value of 10 points each, regardless of the number printed on them.

"In other words," OPA said, "remove first the A-8 stamp and then the B-8 stamp. Do not remove the A-8 stamp (below the A-8) because that will be needed later."

More Red Stamps March 26

OPA announced this week that red stamps G-8, H-8 and J-8 will become valid March 26 to purchase meats and fats and will continue to have a uniform value of 10 points, for use with tokens. This series of stamps will continue valid to June 18.

On April 1, blue stamps F-8 through H-18 will become valid for canned fruits and vegetables and will be good until June 20.

Richmond — The Virginia State Chamber of Commerce will observe its twentieth anniversary celebration this year at its annual meeting on April 13 and 14, in Richmond. Dr. Huston St. Clair, the president, has announced. Dr. St. Clair yesterday named five committees to perfect the event and instructed the staff to exhibit chamber publications issued during the life of the organization. A special anniversary number of the chamber's magazine, The Commonwealth, will be issued. Of committee appointments made, E. D. Peterson, of Norfolk was named chairman of the nominating committee.

Next Two Months Danger Period For Forest Fires

Virginia is one of 30 states in which the next two months are a dangerous period for forest fires, the Federal and State Forest Agencies warn.

From Maine to Florida, west to Oklahoma, and south to the Gulf of Mexico, including southern portions of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri, the Forest Services caution people to be especially careful in clearing land for Victory gardens, and in burning trash, grass, or fence rows.

The debris burner, the smoker, the sportsman, should under no circumstances "take a chance," the Forest Services warn. And, in clearing cropland, burning off weed patches, or logging slash, or trash, the burner should always get a permit if State laws require it, scrap a trail or plow around for safety, have sufficient help on the job just in case the fire gets out of hand, and never burn in unusually hot, dry, or windy weather.

Enough timber to build 215,000 five-room homes is burned yearly in the United States by more than 210,000 forest fires, the Forest Services report. Ninety per cent of these wood, brush, and range fires are caused by careless or thoughtless persons, while only 10 per cent are started by lightning.

Careless smokers who throw away glowing matches and cigarettes, and campers who leave before putting out the very last spark of their fires, each year are responsible for 30 per cent of all forest fires, the Forest Services say. FI started by farmers, ranchers, forest industries and their workers constitute 40 per cent of the total forest fires that carry destruction to more than 12 million of the approximately 31 million acres of land burned annually in the United States through carelessness.

O. P. A. RE-CAPS

State Farm Produce Goal Threatened By Container Shortage

Overseas Lumber Demands, Increased Production Quotas Emphasize Need For Salvage.

The nation as a whole will need 45 to 60 million more wooden containers for produce than used in 1943 and Virginia growers will need their proportionate share for the 1944 crops. Production of new containers will run far behind that of last year, so Virginia farmers are urged to begin accumulating used containers in order not to run the risk of not getting their produce to market at harvest time. There is likely to be an acute shortage in bushel baskets for peaches, apples and sweet potatoes, and hampers for beans, peas, kale and spinach.

Due to the lumber shortage and the drastic demands for containers for shipping to our armed forces the out put will run far behind that of last year for use by farmers. A ten per cent increase in acreage goals for all growers will mean a further drain in container supplies. Lumber committees and War Production Boards are doing all in their power to remedy the situation but OPA said it could not announce definitely its program for rationing sugar for home canning at this time, but it is not expected that allocations of sugar by the War Food Administration will necessitate a reduction from last year's allowance for canning sugar.

NEW SHOE STAMP COMING

Another ration stamp — yet to be designated — will be made valid for buying one pair of shoes on May 1. OPA has announced incidentally that shoe stamp No. 18 in Ration Book I will be terminated on April 30.

The current shoe coupon, "airplane" stamp No. 1, in Ration Book 3, will continue to be good indefinitely.

The feeling is mutual

THAT'S America marching—and America watching—both stirred by a patriotic pride so real you can feel it. The strength of this nation in peace or war is the strength of all who have a mutual interest in it. You have a large stake in America. You have a personal stake in the industries that help build America.

Take the Virginia Electric and Power Company, for example. Whether you own VEPCO stock or not, you have a definite interest just the same. Your bank and insurance companies which have your savings in trust for you; colleges, hospitals, fraternal orders... make large investments in utility securities guided and guarded by business management. So you have a mutual investment in industry and America.

Civilian Food Supply Favorable

The civilian food supply for the next few months appears to be more abundant than for the same period last year, the Department of Agriculture reports. Potatoes and cabbage head the list of really abundant foods over most of the country. Other products include, carrots, beets, spinach, peanut butter, shell eggs, grapefruit and small oranges, frozen baked beans, citrus marmalade, lard, canned green and waxed beans, frozen vegetables, and canned peas and tomatoes.

Longer Periods for Food Stamps

Under the ration taken plan, three red (meats-fats) 10-point stamps become good every two weeks, on Sundays, and five blue processed fruits-vegetables 10-point stamps become good in the first day of each month. To reduce last minute rush buying just before stamps run out, the Office of Price Administration increased the period for which stamps may be used. Thus, the 60 red points and 60 blue points which become good each month may be used at any time during a period of from 10 to 12 weeks.

Deferments to be More Exact

Occupational deferments must be more exacting, particularly with registrants under the age of 26, in order to meet calls of the armed forces, the director of Selective Service has notified local boards. The combined strength of our armed forces has been fixed at 11,300,000 by July 1, 1944, and as of February 1, some 9,852,000 has entered military service.

AGRICULTURE SEED LAW

The Agricultural Seed Law was revised to require the label to state the poisonous weed sales per pound rather than the number per ounce. Hybrid Seed Corn sold in Virginia must be labeled to show (1) Name and Number by which the hybrid is designated. (2) A statement that the seed is a single-cross, a double-cross or a three-way cross.

(3) The vendor is made responsible for there being no file with the Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration at Richmond a statement giving the pedigree of the hybrid and the name of the breeder who developed each inbred line in the cross.

Workers Needed For Surgical Dressings

Supplies Distributed At Home And Overseas

Schedules And Workrooms Convenient To All Workers

Workers are urgently needed in the five workrooms of the Princess Anne County Chapter of the American Red Cross to assist in fulfilling the Chapter's monthly quota of 45,000 surgical dressings. Mrs. Walter Maher, Production Chairman, announced today.

Mrs. Maher stated that a large supply of surgical dressing materials has just been received and distributed to the workrooms in the county. It was then pointed out that the Production Corps welcomes any persons interested in doing this type of work and is in need of their help. Particular interest was shown in recruiting the many service wives residing in the Chapter's locality.

Emphasis was placed on the great demand for surgical dressings at this time by the country's Army Depots who receive all Red Cross surgical dressings and plan for their distribution to our Armed Forces both overseas and at home. It is our responsibility as members of the Red Cross to see that this tremendous need of surgical dressings is met now and everyday, though it means making time in over-crowded days.

Mrs. K. C. Johnson, Chapter Chairman of Surgical Dressings announced the following schedule in the workrooms, their location and chairman: Chapter Headquarters, 16th and Atlantic, Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Hugh Simmons, chairman; workroom open Mondays from 1 until 4 o'clock, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, from 10 until 4 o'clock.

Fort Story, Officers' Club; Mrs. E. G. Mulling, chairman; workroom open Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 9 until 4 o'clock.

Kempsville Workroom, Experimental Station; Mrs. E. L. Cooper, chairman; workroom open Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 9 until 3 o'clock.

Military Personnel Cooperating 100 Pct.

The splendid cooperation given to the Virginia Beach Police and Fire Departments by the military personnel in the district has been brought to the attention of the "News" and deserves special commendation. The increased population of the community has, of necessity, placed extra burdens on a greatly reduced force. Extra men have been sent from the camps in the capacity of Shore Patrol and Military Police. Trucks have been manned by these men and it is understood that radio equipment for the trucks has been ordered from the government and the order has been approved. It is hoped that as the summer season, with the added population, gets under way there will be an additional number of men of our armed forces placed on duty to help the local force, which will lose several more men to service in a short time.

NEWS OF OUR MEN—WOMEN IN UNIFORM

L. T. K. C. CHILDERS, U.S.N.

Lieut. "Casey" Childers, U.S.N., veteran fighter pilot of the assault on North Africa and of raids on the Marcus Islands, Wake, Rabaul, Gilberts, Tarawa, Kwajalein, Saipan and Truk; winner of the Silver Star and of the Air Medal, has finally come home again and has met his son for the first time.

Lieutenant Childers, who has been ordered to Annapolis to study aeronautical engineering, is a native of Albuquerque, N. Mex., but his home is now listed as Virginia Beach where his wife, a Norfolk girl, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dodson.

The fighter pilot saw his first action in November, 1942, while attached to the carrier Ranger. He fought in the Casablanca area. Later he was sent to the Norfolk Naval Base Station to join an air group being formed here for assignment to an Essex-type carrier. The unit left for the Pacific last May.

In addition to the tales of destruction and glory he tells, the lieutenant, with a twinkle in his keen eyes tells of a Jap's snappy comeback to a marine unit's order that he come out of his pillbox and surrender. The Jap yelled back in fair English, "Come and get me, you souvenir hunters." They did, he added.

Brotherhood—and the Red Cross

Of all the organizations in the world today which have done an outstanding job in every phase of the alleviation of human suffering, doubtless the Red Cross deserves the most praise. Among their other activities, within the past two years, we have become better acquainted, through their appeal for assistance, with the importance and necessity of making blood plasma available to war casualties.

In every community of the country, this Red Cross appeal for blood has had enthusiastic response. From every community of the country, men and women are contributing to the huge pipe line of life that begins in every town in America and stretches out to every one of our battle stations throughout the world. And from this pipe line comes a powerful flood—it is the blood of our nation—the anonymous blood of America saving the lives of her sons.

Many of us have never stopped to think that the fundamental unity of our country is so aptly illustrated in the simple act of giving blood. For those in a critical or dangerous condition. We do not realize perhaps—but it is about time that we did—that the names, big or little, on this pipe line illustrate best of all, why our country and our way of living must triumph over the aggressor.

Does it make any difference whether the name be O'Brien, Jones, Goldberg or Svoboda? Does it matter whether this blood comes from Protestant, Catholic or Jew? Does it matter whether the donors are Democrat or Republican—rich or poor—clergymen or laymen? Irrespective of political beliefs, irrespective of their country of origin or the church which they attend—all who give blood—give it willingly to the cause of Humanity for which our Savior suffered and for which we are fighting again today.

If we realize this—if we appreciate the fact that saving the lives of our men at battle stations throughout the world is blood which mental meaning embodied in our Constitution which tersely set forth the principles of our Government comes from all of us—we begin to realize and appreciate the fundamental—Equality of mankind.

So at this time of the year, let us contribute generously to the Red Cross—appreciating not only its importance in the world in which we are now living—but more especially the fact that through its blood donor service—it is not only saving lives, but knitting together more closely that democratic brotherhood which we call America!

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Washington, D. C. March—The White House and the United States Senate have been playing parts in "after you," and "you first" since "Dear Alben" became Leader of the Senate instead of standard bearer and spokesman for the President. As much as politicians like a fight they are always ready for a truce.

In the honeymoon days of the New Deal the Congress bestowed more discretionary power upon the President than had ever been granted before in the history of the country; whereupon Mr. Roosevelt eventually changed so many rules of government that he held Con-

SYMBOL OF DEMOCRACY

A series of articles on the General Assembly of Virginia

(By Frances Leigh Williams)

POST WAR NEEDS FACED BY ASSEMBLY

The General Assembly has given much thought to anticipate the unemployment situation that will arise as war industries and the armed services begin to demobilize and has voted sums for major construction to meet that need. Employment in the Hampton Roads area, for example, is expected to drop 50% in the next twelve months. This decline from a war swollen increase of 500% to 600% in that area will involve major economic adjustments. To utilize men as they become available, the budget already passed by the House of Delegates includes a total appropriation for capital outlay of $10,545,000 to be spent in the first year of the biennium and $6,147,000 in the second year. If the war continues and should prevent this construction program, the same sums will doubtless be re-appropriated by the next Legislature.

Recognizing the necessity of large-scale postwar public works, the Legislature has refused to divert too much of the expected surplus to current needs. The present proposal before the Legislature is to put 50% of the surplus unspent at the end of the biennium into the hands of localities for use in financing local projects while 50% remains in the State treasury. This policy of encouraging localities and locally constituted authority to keep the initiative for their own projects is in the best Virginia tradition, for when the State undertakes the major portion of responsibility, she takes the authority too, even as in the State and Federal setup.

One of the chief aims in educational construction after the war is more consolidated schools. There are still 1,738 one-room and 885 two-room school buildings out of an approximate total of 4,400 in the state. In order to give children a better preparation for college or for a trade, better libraries, recreation, lunch room and music training, consolidation of high schools will come. These consolidations will not necessarily stick to county boundaries. The general idea is to have no high school student have to spend over one hour on the bus to school while the younger children are not to spend over a half hour each way in travel.

One interesting proposal for improving rural housing made by the Committee on Postwar Agricultural Planning is to secure houses of the demountable type, constructed in industrial centers during the emergency. Among the plans proposed by the Committee on Travel Trade Planning to increase the state's $100,000,000-a-year tourist trade is the possible conversion of army and navy camps to a practical civilian use, the conversion of military areas into game preserves, and the development of either private or public landings for small pleasure boats in tidal waters.

The greatest contribution that George Washington made to this country was probably not his military leadership of the Revolution, but his uniting of the Colonies after the war was won. Virginia will need a thousand men like Washington after this war to inspire the people, to prevent inertia and a wave of pleasure-seeking from sapping war-weary energies. Even as Washington longed to return to the quiet life of Mount Vernon, so will many men wish to cast off public responsibility. But, like the Father of our Country, the true patriot will need to continue to work for the good of his state and nation if a permanently sound structure is to be built.

For vitally necessary as are material developments, Virginia will remember that, in the days in which the state gave the greatest leadership to the country, material comforts were few and far between. Virgins under Administration control, when Senator Barkley rebelled and declared "my cup runneth over" most of the 533 members of the two Houses of Congress joined the revolt against policies of White House control that had been steadily built up for a dozen years.

Just how far the reconciliation will go, nobody knows.

gina's real wealth was in the character of her citizens. As the State plans to meet economic needs she will do well to remember President Roosevelt's statement: "I doubt if there is any problem social, political or economic that would not melt away before the fire of a great spiritual awakening."

Even Seconds Help

Long distance calls continue to crowd the circuits. We have adopted many arrangements to get more calls over the lines than they were ever designed to carry and to get them through faster.

When you must make a call, here's a way which may speed your service a little. Give the operator the details of your call in the following order:

FIRST—give her the name of the distant city and state.

THEN—give her the telephone number you want.

If you do not know the number, give the operator the name and address so she can get the number for you.

WAIT—until the operator asks for your telephone number.

Simple, isn't it? But it will help to speed your call.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's really a great editorial you just read to us, Judge. Where did you say it appeared?"
"In 'The Stars and Stripes'... the newspaper of the U.S. Armed Forces in Europe. Kind of gives us folks back home something to think about, doesn't it, Bill?"
"It certainly does, Judge. Particularly the last paragraph. Would you mind reading that again?"
"Glad to, Bill. It says, 'We can remember the days of prohibition, when moonshine whiskey made quick fortunes for bootleggers, crooked politicians and dishonest police officials. As a result, we claim we know what we want in the way of liquor legislation and feel those at home should wait until we return before initiating further legislation on liquor control."

"Out of fairness to our boys over there fighting, Judge, how could we disobey such a wish?"

Theater Prevues

Brian Aherne, Rosalind Russell, Eillard Parker and Alan Dinehart will be co-starred in "WHAT A WOMAN" at the Bayne Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 24 and 25. The "woman" is Rosalind Russell as she plays, tag with Brian Aherne in one of the liveliest comedies of the year.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday "A GUY NAMED JOE" will be the offering. Irene Dunne, Van Johnson, Spencer Tracy and Ward Bond are enough to assure an excellent film. Romance, comedy and action in an air-drome in England gives you the X-Ray of the picture.

"THE HEAT'S ON" for Wednesday and Thursday will star Mae West, Victor Moore, Hazel Scott and William Gaxton. Plenty of laughs in a real Mae West musical comedy.

At the Roland the first offering for Friday and Saturday will be "UNCENSORED." Eric Portman, Phyllis Calvert and Griffith Jones in the title roles. This is an English made film with a good story and plenty of suspense.

Sunday and Monday there will be a double feature. Bela Lugosi, John Archer and Wanda McKay starred in "BOWERY IN MIDNIGHT" and Ken Maynard in "WESTWARD BOUND." The latter has everything action fans desire, a plausible plot, plenty of suspense and fights galore.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday there will be another double feature. "PRISON MUTINY" starring Edward Morris and Joan Woodbury also Johnny Mack Brown in "RIDERS OF THE WEST."

Some Americans are making more money than ever before. They are apt to be groaning the loudest about taxes.

Our Third Wartime Easter Outfit

Your local merchant is still the 9.

man with one of the biggest wartime headaches. He not only has to find merchandise despite shortages, but he must guard against any shoddy substitutes and he has the ticklish job of keeping his own sales going without encouraging needless spending and thereby encouraging inflation.

Right now, he's faced with two particularly difficult wartime problems. First, he's assembling your Easter wardrobe, and apparently he has been able to do a good job. Our third wartime Easter parade will be as replete with novelty and color as ever, despite a lot of shortages. Wool suits will be featured, for wool is, next to metals, the most plentiful of the materials which were critical when we entered the war. Cotton dresses will be scarce. Plenty of novelty millinery in a wide range of styles — from the little "half-hats" that puzzle fashion-ignorant men to the more elaborate hommages and high crowns. This year, the merchant gets a break because Easter is moderately late — falling on April

It provides also for the increased cost of caring for an average of over 300 children who are constantly in boarding homes and otherwise under the supervision of the Society.

Last year the Society cared for a total of 575 children, most of whom were babies. During the year, 113 children passed from the care of the Society because they were adopted by prospective parents. At the beginning of 1944, 330 children were in the care of the Society, a large majority of whom will be 1944 and subsequent years be placed for adoption.

News Letter Sent Boys In Service By Ladies Of Galilee Church

Relay All News Items To Mrs. Robert Taylor And Mrs. R. G. Barr

A unique and very personal service to some of the Virginia Beach boys is being carried on each month by two of the ladies of the Galilee Episcopal Church. Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. R. G. Barr gather all the news of the boys and girls of the Beach and in a letter called the "Galilee Gazette" sent once a month to boys of the Galilee Church, they keep these boys in touch with each other and with the "home front." Just how much good this bit of thoughtfulness can mean to a boy from home is plainly shown in the following quotation from the "Galilee Gazette" of March 6th:

Certainly writing this little news letter is no trouble — just plain fun — but if it were we'd certainly be repaid after hearing something this week. One of our men, going out on his first bombing mission, was feeling that tension — maybe just plain jitters — that is every man's experience they tell me. Just before going to his plane the mail came and our crazy little news letter. He read it, felt the little life that comes from news of homefolks, and maybe too we get across to him that we're with you every minute, proud of you, grateful to you, confidently relying on you. Anyhow, the tension eased — he went out to his job feeling capable of taking care of his ship and his men, and doing to the best of his ability the thing at hand.

Every one on the Beach can have a hand in this most thoughtful service. When there is news or change of address phone Mrs. Taylor or Mrs. Barr. This bit of news from home may be just the thing your boy needs to help him over a tight spot.

Darden, Jr., Governor of Virginia, do hereby call upon all agencies, citizens and residents of Virginia to cooperate with the Office of Civilian Defense and local defense councils in supporting and participating cooperatively in a vigorous Victory Garden program. ## Does Princess Anne County Need A Local Hospital?

Mass Meeting Held To Discuss Possibilities And Plans

Willard Ashburn Temporary Chairman; To Appoint Committee

Wheels were set in motion for establishing a hospital for residents of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach.

A mass meeting of representative citizens was held at the Town Hall on Friday, March 4 for the purpose of getting the reaction of local residents to a project long dreamed of, and hoped for, by the members of the Princess Anne County Medical Society.

Dr. Cora Z. Corpening, president, called the meeting to order and gave a brief summary of the life of the Princess Anne County Medical Society particularly with reference to the proposed project. After expressing the wish and desire of the members of the Society, Dr. Corpening turned the meeting over to Willard Ashburn, who acted as temporary chairman.

Mr. Ashburn called for expressions from the floor after stating that it was his understanding that the idea was for a very modest outlay. A modern, well equipped building of 50 to 75 beds, to cost approximately $200,000.

Doctors and lay residents expressed favorable desires for the project. Walter Maher proposed that Mr. Ashburn be instructed to select a committee, not to exceed eight in number, of representatives from Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. This committee to establish the fact as to the necessity of such a hospital and if so, whether it could be financed and made self-supporting in the community.

The motion was passed, authorizing Mr. Ashburn to appoint his committee and call another mass meeting at such time as the committee has sufficient findings to report. At this future meeting ways and means would be discussed.

When the Medical Society was formed it was primarily to further the aims of the community. Its membership was not to be limited to the doctors in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. All local residents are invited to join. Those in attendance at the meeting were asked to sign as members, signifying their desire to aid in any way the furtherance of the subject under consideration. No obligation was placed upon those who signed. Simply a willingness to cooperate in a project so vital to the convenience of the community and to its safety.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

LEARN AND LIVE

How long do you expect to live? Sixty—eighty—a hundred years? Life doesn't last forever, yet there's no use to willfully shorten it.

Every community in Princess Anne County is going to have meetings during the week of April 3. Meetings planned for the health education of young and old.

Tuberculosis is a powerful enemy to mankind—it is no respecter of persons or ages—it is symptomatic as so slight as to be hardly noticeable in the early stages.

The National Campaign for "Early Diagnosis Education" is on—the fact remains that early discovery and adequate treatment have effected many a cure—Don't procrastinate—Ignorance is no excuse for violation of the laws of nature, when the opportunity to learn the rules of right living is within such easy reach. Knowledge plus skill is the effective control of this dread disease. Now is the time to take the first step—Attend a meeting some where and learn that you may live.

"... TO DO HIS OR HER FULL DUTY"

Many Virginians have been asking themselves, and local Defense Councils as well, as to what is considered a patriotic amount of volunteer time to be given in support of war activities. It has been generally agreed that more and more volunteer time will have to be forthcoming if all the vital projects necessary for the successful prosecution of the war are completed—and in time.

A fair index as to the truly patriotic amount volunteered in Virginia may be gleaned from the service award records compiled by the State Office of Civilian Defense. In a study of slightly over 2,000 volunteer records, the average was 467 hours for the 111 weeks that have elapsed since December 7, 1941. Further reduced, this is an average of slightly over 6 hours per week.

The standard set in Great Britain early in the war was 12 hours per week for each individual. In the United States, we have not begun to approach this figure, to date. It is evident, however, that with more home front jobs to do—with less and less people to perform them—that civilians will be called upon to give more and more time. If the figures stated above are a true index, and we know of no better one, it appears that 6 to 7 hours of volunteer service per week will be needed of each person. This means that all of us should plan our time and work so as to give at least one volunteer hour each day.

If this plan is carried into effect it will necessitate a considerable amount of planning by volunteer agencies and a considerable more planning by Civilian Defense Councils and Volunteer Offices, as coordinating agencies, in order to best utilize the services.

General Eisenhower has said that victory in Europe may be reached in 1944. The great big "E" stored in that statement is for every man and woman, all the way from the front line to the remotest hamlet... to do his or her full duty."

We think about that some yardstick of volunteer effort be set up. Our people have a right to know what is expected of them, otherwise they will never know when they are contributing sufficient time and effort to insure victory in the shortest possible time.

WHAT IS YOUR CHRISTIANITY WORTH?

by Ruth Taylor

As we approach another Easter season, we are face to face with the great problem of all ages—what is our Christianity worth? What has it done to improve our way of life? What have we done to express it in the terms—the only terms which we can use—of service to others?

To those of us to whom religion is a vital force, Christianity spells obligation. It is not just a ritual. The ritual is merely the expression and the reminder of the principle back of it. The Christian way of life is the way of love, the way of brotherhood. A person has only as much Christianity as he has love, and no more, I read once, and it is true.

The soul knows no race or creed or color. "Thou shalt love thy God with all thy heart" was the first great commandment, and Jesus added: "And the second is like unto it—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." On God's side all men are brothers.

This is the basis of Christianity. We know it. We were taught it as children, no matter to which church we went, but too often we have kept it a Sunday-creed—not a role of life. We did not apply it to our neighbor, to the stranger within our gates, to those who worshiped or thought or spoke in different manner than did we.

If we had ever tried Christianity as a way of life, there would be no poverty, no insecurity, no despondent and despairing people. Ours was the task, ours the responsibility if we wished to be classed as Christians.

In a recent speech Lord Halifax humbly expressed the Christian position: "We acknowledge that in the past we have tolerated much of which we are now ashamed. We are resolved never again to lose that new sense of values which we have won through the war. We shall uphold these values at whatever cost, so that we may build a future in which they shall rule the lives of men."

What is our Christianity worth? Unless it is put to practical application in your daily life, it is not worth anything. We are a Christian nation and it is our task to live up to all that that implies. Only by practicing brotherhood, as individuals and as a nation, can we make democracy succeed and bring to reign on earth the peace of the King of Kings.

THE LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD

At the time of the Crucifixion the dogwood attained the size of the oak and other forest trees. So strong and firm was the wood of the cross. To be thus used for such a cruel purpose, greatly distressed the tree, and Jesus smiled upon it, sensed this, and in His gentle pity for sorrow, said to it:

"Because of your regret and pity for my suffering, I make you this promise: Never again shall the dogwood tree grow enough to be used for a cross. Henceforth it shall be slender and bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross—two long petals and two short petals, and in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with blood. And in the center of the flower there will be an image of the crown of thorns and all who see it will remember that it was upon a dogwood tree I was crucified, and this tree shall not be mutilated or destroyed, but cherished as a reminder of my death upon the cross."

SEA SCOUT SAGA

Last week end the "Sea Toy 11" went on a cruise. Saturday all of the boys who had planned to go met at Lt. Comdr. G. S. Williams home to prepare the ship for the overnight sail. We left the dock at 5:00 P.M. and with a north bound breeze soon reached the upper end of the bay. Our intention to go through the "narrows" and into new territory, was quickly interrupted when the boat struck a sand bar and we were compelled to stay there until high tide before we could move back into familiar waters and anchor for the night.

The next day the boat was cleaned and checked over. At 2:00 P.M. the boys who had come for the regular Sunday cruise were picked up at the dock along with the ship's committee of the Lions Club. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

OWNERS OF VIRGINIA LIQUOR RATION BOOKS

Sales Permit Books issued prior to March 31, 1944, will be invalid after May 31, 1944. It will be necessary to exchange the old for new books.

Beginning Monday, April 3, and continuing through Saturday, May 27, owners of Sales Permits for civilian registrants may exchange their Permits for Sales Permits No. 2 at Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control stores or special registration places.

In cities and towns in which special registration places are established, the exchange will not be made at stores. In places where no special registration place is established the exchange may be made at A. B. C. stores. Locations and business hours of these special registration places will be announced by the local daily press.

The new books will contain coupons in the place of the unused available coupons in the old book, so that no coupon will be lost to the owner in an exchange of the book at any time in the period above specified.

In order to prevent congestion and to facilitate the issuance of the new book without undue delay to the public, permit owners are requested, but not required, to present their permits in the following alphabetical order:

If this order is inconvenient, you may exchange your present book for the new book at any time between April 3 and May 27 when registration centers are open for business. Compliance with this schedule will, however, be to the advantage of the public and they are therefore requested to co-operate as fully as possible.

Caution: Present only your own permit for exchange. If you offer someone else's permit, it may be confiscated and the true owner will have to register as a new applicant after May 31.

The person presenting a book for exchange must be able to sign the signature appearing in the old book before the new book can be issued. If he cannot write he must be identified by an attesting witness.

Registration for civilian permits on original application will be suspended as of the close of business March 31, and will not be resumed until June 1.

U. S. O. ADVISORY BOARD MEETS

At the meeting of the U. S. O. Advisory Board on Monday evening the chief topic of discussion was the problem of inadequate transportation to and from the Beach for the men stationed at the Little Creek Base, and other camps in that immediate area. There is no direct communication with the Beach. Men have to take a bus to Norfolk and then to Virginia Beach and make the same round about return trip at night. No definite plans were formed to remedy the situation.
